“Interning abroad is a great way to accomplish multiple goals with one program. I was able to practice my Spanish, gain valuable work experience and travel around the country, all while receiving academic credit.” - Shannon R.
API staff members happily guide participants through the administrative processes of the pre-departure phase of interning abroad. Participants (and their families) may contact API as often as needed with questions about placements, academic credit, on-site logistics, visa procedures, housing, and anything else. API staff members, in turn, are frequently in touch with participants regarding program updates, essential travel tips, and recommendations for having a successful experience abroad.

API works with each individual to find the best possible internship match to meet that individual’s learning objectives and future career interests. Depending on the destination, the applicant’s level of education, foreign language ability, and the competitiveness of the requested placement focus, the applicant may need to have some flexibility with the placements available.

API can connect prospective program participants with recently returned API alumni. These alumni can share their experience, answer questions, and connect with students pre-departure. Upon their return, API alumni have the opportunity to participate in a number of alumni programming opportunities, including the API Global Leadership Academy.
We understand that going overseas for an international internship can be an exciting but overwhelming undertaking. To ensure that our interns are prepared for this intensive academic and career experience, we have developed a special internship orientation program to ease the transition. All of the interns participating in the 8-Week Fixed Date Internship Program will receive our unique 3-day Workplace and Culture Orientation. During this fun and educational orientation, interns will have the opportunity to build relationships with other participants, discover the local culture, learn about the host country work environment, attend career related workshops, and participate in local cultural activities.

Housing is included in the API program fee and varies by destination. Housing typically consists of student apartments and homestays, and may be co-ed (by household, not bedroom). Participants should expect the accommodation to be centrally located and easily accessible to public transportation. Each participant’s commute will vary, as internship placements are located in different areas in each location. Participants will receive their confirmed housing assignment approximately three weeks prior to departure. A $275 security deposit is due by the final payment deadline for all programs. A fee of $95 will be retained from all security deposits to cover standard cleaning fees and general maintenance fees, including minor repairs and standard touch-up painting. Refer to the city information sections on the API website for more specific housing information by location.

Most Resident Directors/Coordinators are locals from the host country in which participants will be interning and are ready to provide practical information and insight into the host culture. Our Resident Directors/Coordinators introduce participants to the ways of life in their host country, help participants get settled into their placements, and support participants throughout their stay. They are available in case of any personal emergency and are ready to implement the API emergency response plans if needed.

Medical and life insurance is provided for all participants during the program term. The coverage includes medical evacuation and repatriation, as well as 24-hour support for medical issues.
（CAREER NAVIGATION BRIEFCASE

One’s international internship is not just about the destination. It will be a journey of adventures, experiences, learning, successes, and challenges, which serve to help one grow as a person and a professional. The Career Navigation Briefcase will include the following resources to help participants start developing their career both at home and abroad:

ACADEMIC CREDIT AND TRANSCRIPT

API’s Fixed Date internships offer participants the option to earn academic credit (for an additional fee). Participants may also wish to petition their home university for academic credit for work completed on a Flex Date internship.

Upon completion of a Fixed Date internship, an official transcript from an accredited U.S. university is sent to the student’s home institution if they’ve requested a transcript and paid the additional fee. Prior to beginning their internship program, API encourages participants to discuss academic credit options with home school advisors to determine if and how credits may be earned. Academic credit for internships must be approved and arranged before the internship begins as credit typically cannot be retroactively arranged.

Participants who are interested in continuing their international experience may choose to participate on a teach, volunteer, work abroad program, or service trip through API. Please call (800) 844-4124 or visit apiabroad.com for details.

Returning participants have the opportunity to continue to be engaged with API through a variety of alumni opportunities. CUSTOMIZED GROUP INTERNSHIPS

In addition to working with individual participants on tailored internship placements, API can work with colleges and universities to develop custom internship programs to fit each institution’s needs. Contact API today at (512) 600-8937 or via email at barbara.west@apiabroad.com to learn how we can build a great program together!

• API can work with an institution to completely customize an internship program, OR the institution can decide to rebrand a standard API program as its own.
• API internship programs may be customized to suit a variety of majors or address a specific academic focus.
• Dates and program lengths can be tailored to fit the institution’s schedule.
• Customized program model offers institutions more ownership in the program.

“I THINK HAVING AN INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE WILL SET ME APART FROM OTHERS IN THE FUTURE. I CAN SHOW THAT I AM ABLE TO GO OUT OF MY COMFORT ZONE, TAKE INITIATIVE, AND ADAPT TO A NEW CULTURE.”

- CELIA A. - CENTRAL MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
In addition to our full-time internship programs, API also offers students the option to participate in an internship while on a semester, academic year, or summer study abroad program. In most cases students can earn academic credit, though some opportunities are offered without credit. Visit the API website at apiabroad.com or call the API office at (800) 844-4124 for details.

API’s Teach, Work, and Volunteer Programs are designed to transform the lives and perspectives of our participants through their service and commitment to local communities. Our programs provide enriching cross-cultural experiences that foster increased self-knowledge, cultural sensitivity and understanding of the global nature of our contemporary world.

WHY PARTICIPATE IN A TEACH, WORK OR VOLUNTEER PROGRAM?

Many of our participants have studied and traveled abroad before, and are looking for an opportunity to embark on a new adventure! Although it’s always fun to visit a country as a tourist, traveling abroad to teach, work or volunteer often holds a deeper meaning for our participants. Your experience is purpose-driven, and enables you to contribute to the local community, while at the same time enjoying many benefits:

- broadening your perspective through cultural immersion
- increasing language proficiency
- developing professional or technical skills
- enhancing your resume with a unique experience
- improving “soft skills” (communication, leadership, etc.)
- forming professional connections and networking
